To use your mobile phone
1. We must have a reliable and private password. 2. We should not share or like the internet pages we do not know. 3. We should not share our identity information, credit card information and address information to internet pages that we do not know.

When you search something, thing 2 times. Web site's can be trusty, but when you download it your computer can get virus. When you gonna buy something tell your parents and don't buy a very good price. If someone offers you 100$ something to 12$ or something else don't buy it.

Yes, my password is secure, and while setting my password, I create a secret, unknown private password that malicious people cannot find.

We should spend at most an hour in front of the computer or television also we should watch videos, play games and programs according to our age.

We must reduce our internet usage, know how much we need to be interested in the internet and plan when we will use the internet.

don't share our personal information
